Dee Henderson, you've done it again! The third book of the O'Malley series, "The Truth Seeker" will just captivate you! And if you've read all three books and loved them as much as I do, I'm sure you feel a part of the O'Malley family now! The O'Malley family consists of seven brothers and sister, three boys and four girls. Since they were little they had been in the same orphanage and when they got out of the orphanage, they decided to 'adopt' each other, taking the name O'Malley as their family name. They all have very important jobs, Marcus is a U.S. Marshal, Kate a negotiator for hostage situations, botched-up robberies, etc., Jennifer is a doctor, Jack a fireman, Rachel a trauma psychologist, and Lisa is a forensic pathologist. This story is about Lisa O'Malley, 'the truth seeker'. U.S. Marshal Quinn Diamond has for twenty years been searching for the person who murdered his father. His only link is the disappearance of Amy Ireland, a neighbor of his ranch where Quinn's father was killed. And Quinn is still searching for her. Lisa O'Malley, forensic pathologist has worked crime scenes in Chicago for many years. When she is asked by her boss to look over the files of unsolved cases, she of course accepts and digs into the sea of evidence and connections between victims that are faint but are now fading. Quinn and Lisa's cases seem to come together by some threads of evidence. As Quinn spends more time around Lisa, he finds himself falling in love with her and prays every day for her salvation. Lisa is also beginning to fall for Quinn but has seen too much pain and death to believe in God and the resurrection of Jesus Christ. And there is also the deep secret which Lisa has been hiding for years, even from her family. Quinn is determined to find out about it.
